Congressional Candidates in Joint Discussion in Lunenburg County.

VENTILATING THEIR RECORDS

Cameron Reviews Southall's Of ficial Stewardship and Southall Criticises Cameron's Career.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MicherRin, VA., June 13.—Ex-Governor William E. Cameron and Congressman R. G. Southall met in a joint discussion at Lunenburg to-day, which lasted three hours.

Court was adjourned for the occasion and at one o'clock the court room was crowded to its utmost capacity when George E. Smith, chairman of the party introduced the candidates. Mr. Cameror led off in an hour's speech, in which he attacked the record of Mr. Southall in Congress, and also in his own county, and told his hearers that the record and told his hearers that the record showed nothing that Mr. Southall had done to merit his return.

Mr. Cameron theh gave a history of his own life, in which he said he had saved the State several thousand dollars under the Readjuster party, and continued to fight the Democrats in order that the finances should be improved.

RECRUITED THE FINANCES.

He told how he had led the party to

He told how he had led the party to victory under this plan, and how he had recruited the treasury of the State during his administration, and his record as a Confederate soldier was also discussed, and, altogether, he made a good impression on his hearers, and when he retired he was loudly cheered, but not so much as when the form of Southall stepped forword.

Mr. Southall began by attacking the past record of the ex-Governor, in which he asserted that he had for several years after the war concentrated his forces in order that he might defeat Mahone, and at the same time was working in connection with the Republicans. He told also of the votes cast by the ex-Governor since the war, in which he claimed not one had been for a Democrat up to nineteen hundred.

COLORED TRUSTEES. COLORED TRUSTEES.

COLORED TRUSTEES.

His record as Governor was also attacked, in which he charged that he turned out white trustees in Richmond and put two negroes in their stead. He also stated that after the Readjusters fell in this 2:ate, the ex-Governor left and was only heard again in politics when it became evident that the negro was to it became evident that the negro was to be eliminated, and this made him the Democrat he is to-day. He also charged him with entering, in combination with Northern political leaders, while Governor, in order that funds could be raised to carry this State, as well as the South, for the Republicans. Many letters and editorials from different papers were used to substantiate his charges, and during frequent intervals the speaker was loudly cheered.

It could be easily seen that the Southall men had a large majority present.

The meeting was very harmonious, and both parties were warmly congratulated by their friends.

There seems no doubt but that Mr.

There seems no doubt but that Mr. Southall will carry this county.

CAPT. PURSELL DEAD.

A Magistrate Widely Known for His Wisdom and Kindliness.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WAKEFIFED. VA., June 13.—Captain
J. H. Pursell, of this town, died here Saturday morning. A stroke of paralysis, complicated with other and chronic allurnis, terminated fatally an illness of less than two days.

Captain Pursell was born in Natasulga, Alc., April 6, 1841. He was educated in Lagrange, Ga., and was completing a ricelical course in Tennessee when the Civil War began. He at once returned to Alabama and enlisted in its Sixth Regiment of volunteers. He served with his regiment for about two years, when he was wounded three times during the fight of Seven Pines. From thenceforward he served as assistant medical surgeon until near the close of the war, when he was taken prisoner by General Custis, at

The fortunes of war left him in Virginia, which thenceforward became his adopted State and home. For about thirty years he lived in or in the vicinity of Washington county.

MARRIED ON DEATH BED.

Bride Accompanies the Remains ty years he lived in or in the vicinity of Wakefield. No man here or elsewhere can fill the place in this community and these counties that has been vacated by this death. It was a large place reached and filled by his quiet presence and out-reaching expansion of thirty years. Intelligent, trained, experienced, a close rtudent of books, men and events, he was sought as the wise counsellor, the trusted adviser, the loyal friend of whole communities.

For about twenty-seven consecutive years he had filled the position of magistrate or justice of the peace. During all this long and unbroken service no appealed decision of his had been reversed by a superior court. And such was the confidence in his legal knowledge, in the justice, fairness and wisdom of his magisterial decisions, that an appeal from his decision was a rare occurrence.

He leaves a lonely widow by a second marriage, and four sons and one daughter, who are the children of his first marriage. A characteristic trait was his great devotion to his children.

He was buried in Wakefield Cemetery

Women All Over the United States Praise Pe-ru-na for Diseases Peculiar to Their Sex.

Miss Florence Miller, 402 Alabama St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"I am proud and happy that I am able to praise Peruna as it deserves, for a better medicine I do not know for the ills so many women suffer from and do not know which way to turn for help. If all wobackache, headache and all worn out feeling would take Peruna they would soon find that it put new life into the body and to I away all the aches and pains and weariness.

"That has been my experience, and I gratefully acknowledge the blessing Peruna has been to me."

Disgulard Catarrh.

Disguised Catarrh.

There are a great many people who are actually invalids from chronic catarrh of some internal organ who have not the slightest suspicion that they are victims of this universal disease.

This is especially true in cases of chronic catarrh of the organs in the lower part of the abdomen or pelvic organs.

There are a multitude of women, especially housewives, and all other women obliged to be on their feet continually, who are wretched beyond description, simply because their strength and vitality is sapped away by catarrhal discharges.

The backache ceases, the trembling knees are strengthened, the appetite restored, digestion made perfect, the duil headache is stopped and the patients are gradually cured. These results certainly follow a course of treatment with Peruna.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the one given above. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. VINCHESTER, VA. June 13.—The body of James W. Baker, who died in Hemlock, N. C., on Friday, was brought here to night and taken to his home in Hampshira county, W. Va., for burial. A pathetic feature of his death was that he was married only a few days ago on his death bed. He was engaged to a young lady in Hampshire county, and when he was taken sick with typhoid fever in North Carolina he telegraphed for her to come to him at once. She hurried to his bedside, but he was too weak to go through with the ceremony. Finally ne ralled and they were married. The young groom then suffered a relapse and died. The bride accompanied the remains here alone.

Young Girl, Owner of Machine, Has Leg Cut Off and Is in Critical Condition.

NEW YORK, June 13 .- A happy family party, enjoying the pleasure of the daughter's first ride in an auto, presented by her father, was turned into a household of mourning Sunday when the big machine was struck by a train at Van Courtlandt Park. -

Of the six occupants, one was killed, a second is dying, three were seriously injured, and the happy owner, Miss'Margaret Noakes, of No. 413 Riverside Drive.

garet Noakes, of No. 413 Riverside Drive, was malmed for life.

The passengers on the train and a hundred or more golfers on the Van Courtland links were horror-stricken witnesses of the tragedy, and were forced to see the injured and dying victims He near the tracks for half an hour awaiting the arrival of an ambulance.

Frank H. Read, a manufacturer, who lived at the Hotel Endicott, a guest of the Noakes, fought for his life by clinging to the pilot of the engine. He was so badly crushed and mangled that he died in the Fordham Hospital soon after he was taken there.

There were no gates at the crossing, but it was guarded by a watchman and a warning gong.
